Editor's Note:

The Department of Land and Natural Resources Tri-Annual Report comprises narrative and statistical data about the activities of, and resources managed by the department for the fiscal years between July 1, 1998 through June 30, 2001. However, in parts it covers statistical information from sequential years during the period 1998 through 2001. Where data was not available for those years, data was used and notated from 2002.

Information on each operating division, staff office or affiliated commission is presented as follows: role and organization, a survey of the resources managed, a program overview, highlights and list of accomplishments. Statistics, which provide an important benchmark on the present status of Hawaii's natural resources, are found in the back of each section.

Instead of being presented alphabetically as has been done in the past, the divisions are presented in terms of their relationship to each other and their often complementary responsibilities. The State Historic Preservation Division is presented first in recognition of its vital importance in preserving Hawaii's physical and cultural heritage as a legacy to all of Hawai'i. Marine responsibilities involve both Division of Aquatic Resources and Division of Boating and Ocean Recreation. Terrestrial responsibilities involve Division of Forestry and Wildlife (DOFAW) and the Division of State Parks. Land management and record-keeping are the purview of both the Land Division and the Bureau of Conveyances.

Special thanks to Eric T. Hirano, former DLNR Deputy Director now Chief Engineer of Engineering Branch, for finding the funds to make this effort possible. I would also like to thank Randy Kennedy, Native Resources Program Manager of the DOFAW, for his financial support. Betsy Gagne, Natural Area Reserves System Commission, Executive Secretary, helped edit and advise the making of this manuscript.
